We are very privileged to be hosting Emily Reynolds, National Programmes Director and Kate Thornton-Bousfield, Head of Physical Education and Achievement from Youth Sport Trust. They are delighted to be working with Manchester colleagues and informing us of the most relevant updates regarding the health and wellbeing of our young people including #ReframeCompetition, Ofsted and The PE School Sport and Physical Activity Action Plan released by Department for Education and Sport England July 2019.

Agenda

- Welcome - Steve Wheeldon, Chair MPEA & Gabriella, Young Local Organising Committee and student @ Wright Robinson College
- #ReframeCompetition – Emily Reynolds, National Programmes Director, Youth Sport Trust
- Manchester Picture – Manchester Schools' PE Association
- Education Inspection Framework – Kate Thornton-Bousfield, Head of Physical Education and Achievement, Youth Sport Trust
- UA92 – Using a holistic approach to PE, School Sport and Physical Activity to reduce disruption and influence character/personal development
- Closing address – Steve Wheeldon, Chair MPEA & Gabriella, Young Local Organising Committee and student @ Wright Robinson College

I do hope that you and your colleagues are able to join us on our journey in enabling the children and staff of Manchester to 'be the best they can be'.

Yours Sincerely,

Steve Wheeldon
Chair – Manchester Schools' PE Association
